Greetings from the Chancellor

To Our Graduates, Family and Friends:

Commencement is one of our most cherished traditions, one that marks a major milestone for you, your family, and the University faculty and staff who have worked with you side by side for many years. We know you are disappointed that we are not able to celebrate in person today; we are too! We sincerely hope you will be able to attend a future ceremony which will allow us to joyfully celebrate the culmination of your transformative journey as a UNC Charlotte student, complete with all appropriate pomp and circumstance.

In your time on campus, you have grown intellectually and have matured both emotionally and socially. Lively classroom discussions and topics of study may have influenced your views on social, cultural, and political issues. You have had opportunities to interact with individuals from other cultures and to engage in the greater Charlotte community.

You have witnessed important developments in the identity of this University that will strengthen its future and add to the value of your degree, including the opening of Levine Hall and the University Recreation Center, the arrival of light rail on campus, and the groundbreaking of the science building, to name just a few.

And, over the past few months, you have demonstrated true understanding and patience. Around the world and here at UNC Charlotte, the COVID-19 pandemic has drastically impacted daily life. Travel is limited, schools have closed, businesses are reimagining the way they operate, and significant events are being postponed or canceled. I am so proud of the way our campus community has come together to support and take care of one another during this unprecedented time. The enduring spirit of Niner Nation is one of resilience. We will continue to get through this together.

I hope your pride in your alma mater will continue to grow as the years go by, and I hope that you continue to cherish the friendships and memories you made on campus. I speak for the entire UNC Charlotte community when I offer congratulations to each of you and to those individuals who have supported you throughout your journey.

As you know, my time at UNC Charlotte is coming to an end as I retire next month. It has been my honor and privilege to serve as Chancellor for the past 15 years. UNC Charlotte is a special place, with outstanding faculty and staff, talented students, and loyal alumni and friends. I also have a deep affinity for this wonderful city, which my family and I have watched grow and develop in size and stature. I sincerely thank you for the support you have shown me.

Graduates of the Class of 2020, you are now ready to begin a new relationship with the University as a proud member of the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association, which is over 147,000 strong. Embrace this new identity and remember that wherever you go, you will always be a Niner!

Fondly,

Philip L. Dubois
Chancellor
Michael Wilson ’93 has served on the UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees since 2012. That service has included multiple terms as chair of both the Athletics and the Academic and Student Affairs Committees. He also served three consecutive terms as vice chair of the board prior to being elected board chair in July 2019. During his first year as board chair, Wilson also served as chair of the Chancellor Search Committee.

In addition to Wilson’s service on the Board of Trustees, he has also actively served the University as a part of the Alumni Association Board of Directors, the Liberal Arts & Sciences Advisory Council, and in the University’s scholarship student interview and awards process. Prior to his service on the Board of Trustees, Wilson taught business law as an adjunct professor in the UNC Charlotte Master of Business Administration program for two years.

Wilson’s history of continuous service and dedication to the University began during his time as a student. While at UNC Charlotte, he served as student body president during his junior year, where he played a critical role in working with the students, the University, and the North Carolina Legislature to bring the James H. Barnhardt Student Activity Center/Dale F. Halton Arena to fruition. Wilson also served as a student alumni ambassador during his undergraduate studies and held the William H. Barnhardt Merit Scholarship and the Alumni Merit Scholarship. Upon graduation, Wilson was awarded the Bill Mitchell Award, which is now called the Bonnie E. Cone Leadership Award. This award is presented to a member of each graduating class whose leadership, scholarship, and service to the University embodies the spirit of Bonnie Cone, the founder of the University who devoted her life to the development of UNC Charlotte.

Wilson holds a law degree from UNC-Chapel Hill and currently serves as the Vice President and General Counsel of Northwood Ravin, LLC, a commercial real estate company with holdings throughout the southeast. Prior to joining Northwood Ravin, he was a partner and Litigation Practice Group Leader at Johnston, Allison, & Hord, PA, with a practice concentrated in litigation related to commercial/business law, construction law, and real property. In 2009, Business North Carolina magazine named Wilson the state’s top attorney for construction law. He has since been named by the same publication as one of the top corporate attorneys in North Carolina. He was inducted into the UNC Charlotte Alumni Hall of Fame in 2013.

As a first-generation college student who needed a scholarship to attend college, Wilson credits UNC Charlotte with making that possible. He notes, “I have never forgotten the opportunity I was given and the pointed question put to me by Miss Bonnie: ‘Is it more important to you to be a part of something that someone built for you, or is it more important to be a part of building something yourself?’” For Mike Wilson, the answer was that he wanted to be a part of building something at this University for current and future generations of students.

Wilson, and his wife, Anna Schleunes, reside in Charlotte with their two sons.

The UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees also includes Susan D. DeVore, Vice Chair; Dennis N. Bunker III, Secretary; Sharon Allred Decker; Theresa J. Drew; Christine P. Katziff; J. Brett Keeter; Fred W. Klein, Jr.; David W. Mildenberg; Mary Ann Rouse; Carlos E. Sanchez; Teross W. Young, Jr.; and Tahlieah K. Sampson, Student Body President.
The honor of being a student marshal goes to juniors who have the highest cumulative grade point average among full time students during the previous two semesters. Only students who have completed two semesters or 24 credit hours at UNC Charlotte prior to the current semester are considered for this honor.

Bonnie E. Cone, our founder

Bonnie E. Cone, the founder of UNC Charlotte, served the institution from its earliest days in 1946. Beginning as a teacher that year, she became director of the Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1947. She persuaded the legislature to keep the institution alive in 1949 when it was scheduled to close, resulting in the establishment of Charlotte College, which she served as president. The college became a four-year, state-supported institution in 1963. Cone was given her greatest acclaim for leading the successful campaign to convert Charlotte College into The University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1965. She then served as vice chancellor for student affairs until her official retirement. Cone died March 8, 2003. In spring 2004, she was interred in Van Landingham Glen on the campus she loved and to which she dedicated her life.
EXPLANATION OF HONORS

University Honors Program: The University Honors Program (UHP) is an interdisciplinary honors curriculum that complements any major. Students in the program strive to broaden their perspectives while developing as scholar-citizens. The program consists of a core academic curriculum, honors elective courses, a senior capstone project, and community engagement. To graduate with University Honors, a student must: complete all program requirements; maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and a 3.2 grade point average in honors courses; and receive a senior project grade of "A." uhp.uncc.edu

Department/College Honors: To qualify for graduation with honors recognition in a department or college honors program, a student must: meet the grade point averages required (cumulative, in the department/college, and in honors courses); complete an honors capstone thesis or project and receive an "A" for that course; complete any additional requirements specified by the program; and be recommended by the program's honors committee for graduation with honors. honorscollege.uncc.edu/honors-programs/85/honors-programs

Dual Honors: Students must complete requirements in both UHP and a department/college honors program.

Merit Scholars Programs: Albert Scholars, Crown Scholars, Levine Scholars, and Martin Scholars are recipients of major four-year merit scholarships funded by University donors. Students must participate in the program and meet all scholarship conditions. levinescholars.uncc.edu, honorscollege.uncc.edu/honors-programs/merit-scholars-programs

Graduation with Distinction: Undergraduate degrees are awarded Summa Cum Laude when the graduate's cumulative grade point average is 3.9 to 4.0, Magna Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.7 or above but less than 3.9, and Cum Laude when the grade point average is 3.4 or above but less than 3.7. To be eligible to graduate with distinction, a student must have a grade point average computed on at least 48 semester hours of credit completed in residence at UNC Charlotte. Honor cord colors are green/white for Summa Cum Laude graduates, white for Magna Cum Laude graduates, and green for Cum Laude graduates.

DEAN W. COLVARD, FIRST CHANCELLOR (1913-2007)

In April 1966, Dr. Dean W. Colvard became the first chancellor of The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. During his 12-year tenure, he presided over a period of rapid campus growth and development. Under his leadership, the institution was organized into colleges, residence halls were built, graduate work was initiated, and long-range planning started. His accomplishments include helping to create the University Research Park and the University's Urban Institute, whose mission is to seek solutions to the social, economic, and environmental challenges facing Charlotte and its urban communities. Colvard joined the University from the presidency of Mississippi State University, and he also served as a dean at North Carolina State University. Following his retirement in December 1978, Colvard helped complete Charlotte's Discovery Place Museum and was the founding board chair of the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics. He also wrote books about his experience at NC State, Mississippi State, and UNC Charlotte. In 2001, Colvard received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus by Choice Award, and in 2004, he received the Echo Foundation's Award Against Indifference. Colvard died in June 2007.

“I'm not a good public speaker. I could never write a 100 page paper. I don't belong here.”

These were the thoughts running through my head during my first weeks of graduate school. Haven’t we all felt that way at some point? Starting a new job? First-time parenthood? When I started grad school I felt vulnerable, not sure whether I would make it. I was experiencing what psychologists have called a “fixed mindset” -- the belief that our abilities are static; like we are dealt a set of cards and are stuck with them. The opposite, what we should all strive for, is a “growth mindset” -- the belief that we can rewire our thoughts; we’re dealt a hand to start, but we can shuffle and exchange our cards for new ones.

I want to share a quick story to show you how easy this is to do. For the last three years, I’ve volunteered with a group of students and faculty at a fourth grade classroom in Charlotte. Like us, the fourth graders also experience a fixed mindset. But their stress is a little bit different; they told me things like, “I stink at reading,” or “I’m just not good with numbers.” We taught these kids the power of a growth mindset with a simple strategy. We taught them to say, "I'm not good with numbers YET." After just a few visits to the classroom, the fourth graders mastered the power of YET. They actually improved their test scores and were visibly more confident.

So, I want to share this superpower with you too. When we started grad school, we probably felt like we couldn’t do it. When this pandemic started, we probably thought we could never be productive at home. And here we are now, adapting and making the most of it. Every person graduating is an example of how persistence and a growth mindset can pay off.

Now, let me give you a quick update on my own fixed mindset thoughts and how a growth mindset has helped me overcome them…

I wasn't a good public speaker YET. But I am always practicing and am getting better. In my second year of grad school, I signed myself up for a competition where I had to explain my entire thesis to a general audience in under three minutes. I took second place and now I think even my grandparents are starting to understand what I do.

I didn't believe I could write 100 pages YET. But I’ve participated in writing workshops, boot camps, and now even virtual writing groups. There are so many people who have been advocating for my success and supporting me along the way. Page by page, I finished a master’s thesis and a dissertation. And yes, the final paper was over 100 pages long.

I felt like I didn’t belong YET. At first, I sat quietly in class, too nervous to ask a question for fear of looking like I was out of place. But I have gained confidence and leaned on my peers. I successfully defended my dissertation, handling intense questions from four faculty members. I’ve made lifelong relationships, and I know I will always be a part of this community.

In closing, I want to congratulate everyone else who has completed their graduate degree this semester. But it doesn’t end here - even with a new degree, we will all face setbacks and a fixed mindset may creep in. The next time you have these thoughts, I challenge you to take a moment, and listen to that voice in your head. Change your fixed mindset to a growth mindset. If the fourth graders could do it, why can’t you? I will leave you with this, even if you haven't achieved your goal, maybe you just haven't achieved it YET.

Teaching English as a Second Language

As we share today’s achievements with family, friends, and faculty, one question evokes a series of thoughts. How did we get here? Many of you who share this day with us played a major role during this life-changing process. Without the sacrifice, support and love of those who celebrate with us, no doubt, our accomplishments would not have been possible. On behalf of my fellow graduates, to each of you, I begin by saying thank you.

Since we embarked on our latest educational quest, all of us found ourselves in the midst of perhaps the greatest balancing act, to this point, of our lives. For me, working to maintain my roles as a husband, father, teacher, the responsibilities of two additional jobs AND part-time student was an extremely taxing endeavor. Mikenzie and Megan, thanks for coming to class with Daddy from time to time so that I could stay on track. We all had to juggle, juxtapose and generate multiple schedules to make it work. Finding ways to keep all of the plates spinning was an improbable feat within itself, but…you did it.

Along the journey, seemingly insurmountable challenges presented themselves. We were under pressure to make decisions in response to the challenges. Often, I wondered if I could keep going, if I had what it takes to see the journey through to the end. My faith, family and wonderful friends gave me the boost of confidence that I needed to press on. I am sure each of us can recall the words of support and belief shared by someone who has been with you every step of the way. In the face of every obstacle, their support strengthened your resolve, enabled you to push through, and ultimately overcome. There was always a push, from the right source, at the right time, serving as a reminder to keep going…and, you did it.

As you move beyond today, remember what this journey revealed to you about yourself. Remember the strength of which you never knew. Remember the ability of which you did not know existed. More than anything, remember the proof of who you really are. Stronger, more intelligent and more capable than you ever imagined. Throughout my studies, I was challenged to stretch my thought process. I was charged to leave the familiar realm of my comfort zone. I felt commissioned to discover, develop, and utilize abilities I never knew I possessed. Every one of us had to embrace the belief that potential must be activated to become beneficial. Because of who you really are, you did it.

Commencement is defined not only as a ceremony in which degrees are conferred to eligible candidates, but also as the act or time of beginning. The journey you have completed has prepared you for your next beginning. Yes, your efforts have enabled you to achieve goals. New doors will now open. The knowledge gained will benefit many in various ways. I am excited about the gift of possibilities connected to the beginning that is to come. Some of us will go on to new areas of occupation. Others will take the next steps in their educational pursuits. As you transition into the next phase, remember how you got here. I encourage you to share the story of your journey. In times like these, the best things in life are still free. What would it cost each of us to make some time for someone who needs what you needed? Inspire, encourage, support and remind others that they can keep going, overcome and successfully complete their journeys, no matter what their journeys may be. Someone needs to know how you did it.

As I am sure many of you have, I have anticipated the culmination of my efforts since I began. Although the process was daunting at times, we embraced it and stayed the course. I sincerely hope that you take the time to enjoy the blessing of this special day. Savor the preciousness of this celebratory moment in your life. Appreciate the importance of this highlight during such a difficult time in our world’s history. Today, because of your hard work, strength and perseverance, the reward is at hand. I congratulate each one of you for your accomplishment. Today, we can proudly say WE DID IT.

History of the University

By 1961, the firmly established Charlotte College was experiencing rapid growth that resulted in the establishment of a campus of its own. In the same year, Charlotte College leaders moved its burgeoning student population into the first two buildings on what would become a 1,000-acre campus ten miles from downtown Charlotte. In 1963, the North Carolina legislature approved bills making Charlotte College a four-year, state-supported institution. In 1965, the legislature passed bills designating the College the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the fourth campus of the consolidated state system. Expansion continued as the University began offering master’s degrees in 1969. In 1992, UNC Charlotte received authorization for its first doctoral programs. Today, UNC Charlotte is the state’s urban research institution and the system’s third largest public university with nearly 30,000 students enrolled in 75 bachelor’s, 65 master’s and 24 doctoral degree programs.

The University Nickname - 49ers

The "49ers" nickname was chosen in recognition of the importance of the year 1949 in the history of the University. UNC Charlotte, which began as an off-campus center of the University of North Carolina, would have died in 1949 had Bonnie Cone and her supporters not convinced the N.C. Legislature that Charlotte needed a permanent institution of higher learning. Charlotte College was established that year. It is fortuitous that the University campus is located on N.C. Highway 49 and that Charlotte has a rich gold mining history.

A bronze statue of the 49er Gold Miner sits in the Cato College of Education and College of Health and Human Services Plaza. The statue recalls the region's history as a gold mining center and symbolizes the pioneering spirit and determination that has led to UNC Charlotte's dramatic growth.

Greetings From The Graduating Class
Belk College of Business, College of Computing and Informatics, and Cato College of Education

McKenna A. Kohler
Candidate for Bachelor of Science, Accounting and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Finance

Grads, I ask you to take a moment and reflect on the time you shared with our fellow classmates. We are the world’s future educators, software engineers, and business professionals. We will soon become the CEOs, principals, and data experts that we have aspired to be from the start of our college journey. As of today, we will no longer be known as students of UNC Charlotte; instead we are graduates. I challenge all students, faculty, and staff to stop and think about your favorite memory of being a part of the 49er family—the first sporting event you attended. When you found out you aced that exam you studied so hard for. Or the moment that you met your now lifelong friends. In my four years at this school, I have had countless memories, friendships, and experiences that will stay with me forever, but there is one in particular that I will never forget.

While being a Niner Guide for the past three years, I have been asked a lot of the same questions. Recently, a dad asked me why I chose to come here, so I gave him my usual answer. I picked UNC Charlotte because academically it was a smart choice for my degree and the career I wanted to pursue. Additionally, everyone was so friendly when I visited the school that I knew I would be welcomed. But I stood there for a moment and realized that after being a student here for the past four years, it was so much more. I continued with, “but that is not why I chose to stay.” I realized I stayed because I had been a part of the change and growth that we are continuing to see from our school. All of us are one in the many that have helped shape the traditions of this campus that we will see carried out for many years to come. I realized that I am a 49er because I have gotten to be a part of defining what a 49er truly is.

My fellow classmates, I want you to remember those times that you participated in a part of something brand new to this university and hold on to that feeling. In our time here, we have overcome difficult decisions, such as deciding on what major to pursue or whether to go to that 8:00 am class on Friday morning. We have endured moments of stress and uncertainty, like whether we would actually make it up the hill on Craver Road or the best escape route from the notorious geese. Moving past the comfort of our school, friends and classmates can seem extremely unsettling. To think that all this time we had one purpose, to graduate, and this part of our lives has come to an end. Wherever your journey takes you next, always remember what you have accomplished here at UNC Charlotte.

I want to thank, on behalf of myself and my classmates, all the faculty and staff at UNC Charlotte. The qualities that you all contribute to this university speak volumes to how giving and supporting the community at UNC Charlotte is. So truly, thank you.

To parents and anyone we call family in our lives, thank you for sticking by us throughout this entire journey. Thank you for answering those phone calls in the middle of the day when we said we were “just walking to class,” but in reality, we missed you and were too proud to say it. Most importantly, thank you for forgiving us for being dumb college kids from time to time. Without your love and support, we would not have all grown into the independent and capable individuals we have become.

My fellow classmates, I challenge you to never be content with where you end up. We are all Niners, so we have the strength, courage, and drive to achieve whatever goals or challenges lie before us. I want to leave you with this final thought—each and every one of us used that strength, courage, and drive to accomplish something incredible—we graduated from college! I encourage you to become your own boss, create the program that has been deemed impossible, and make an impact in a future student’s life. We are all capable of achieving our own personal goals in this life and so much more. I have one last question . . . what’s next for you?

E.K. FRETWELL, U.S. HIGHER EDUCATION LEADER
(1923-2012)

Dr. E.K. Fretwell used his national higher education leadership to gain recognition for UNC Charlotte. He became the University's second chancellor in January 1979 after serving as president of State University of New York College at Buffalo, and before that as assistant commissioner for higher education of the New York State Education Department. During his career, he led some of America's most prominent higher education associations - president of the American Association for Higher Education, president of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, chair of the American Council on Education, and chair of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation. In addition, Fretwell was named one of the 100 most effective chancellors and university presidents in the United States in a national study. After retiring in 1989, he served as interim president of the five-campus University of Massachusetts, authored several books on university management, and consulted on higher education around the country and the world. He was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Public Service degree during UNC Charlotte's spring 1998 Commencement ceremonies. In 2002, he received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association's Alumnus by Choice Award. Fretwell died October 18, 2012.

James H. Woodward, Building for the Future

Dr. James H. Woodward became UNC Charlotte’s third chancellor in 1989, immediately establishing himself as one of the leading executives of the Charlotte metropolitan region. A U.S. Air Force veteran, he worked in private industry and taught at North Carolina State University, the U.S. Air Force Academy, and the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he was a senior vice president for academic affairs, prior to coming to UNC Charlotte. Under his leadership, UNC Charlotte launched ambitious plans for both physical and intellectual growth. Woodward built strong support among the region’s corporate and political leaders, obtained approval to expand the University’s mission to include doctoral programs, and raised the University to doctoral/research intensive status. He established UNC Charlotte Uptown to serve students in the central business district. An engineer, Woodward generated support to build the James H. Barnhardt Student Activity Center and the Irwin Belk Track and Field Center, obtained state funding for doubling the size of the J. Murrey Atkins Library, and was instrumental in garnering public support to pass a $3.1 billion statewide bond referendum that enabled UNC Charlotte to construct or renovate nearly a dozen buildings. He retired in 2005. Woodward has received numerous honors, including the naming of the science and technology building in 2005 as James H. and Martha H. Woodward Hall in recognition of his 16 years of service. In May 2011, UNC Charlotte awarded him an honorary degree, Doctor of Public Service. Woodward received the UNC Charlotte Alumni Association’s Alumnus by Choice Award in 2012. In November 2017, he was awarded the North Carolina Award for Public Service, the highest award a civilian can receive from the Governor.
Greetings From The Graduating Class
College of Arts + Architecture,
The William States Lee College of Engineering, and College of Health and Human Services

Elizabeth G. Hammock
Candidate for Bachelor of Fine Arts

This isn't how this speech was supposed to be given, but we all know that. These are strange times that we are living in. This global event has robbed us of many things these past few months, but time keeps moving and we must go forward with hope.

To my fellow graduating seniors, I am sad that our time here together is ending this way. We have missed so many final moments that we were looking forward to; our last late night study sessions and hangouts with friends, our last sporting events, last art show, last final projects, and our last time to say goodbye to our friends and professors who have helped shape the future of our lives. No, we didn't get to walk out of our final exams and leap for joy, knowing we had given it our best. Yes, we missed out on our original graduation ceremony, getting to celebrate with our loved ones and say goodbye to our time at UNC Charlotte.

We lost a lot of moments that were supposed to happen and it sucks. But this unforeseen ending should not let us forget all the hard work, late nights, and friendships that got us here in the first place. This is an incredible accomplishment that we all have achieved. This degree that each of us has earned is not just a piece of paper to display on the wall; it is a head full of freedom to think and make informed decisions, to be creative and show off your wonderful skills.

This journey has looked different for each and every one of us. For some, it has been a struggle to wake up for an 8:00 a.m. class, or to stay up all night to finish that project that really should not have been procrastinated, or to keep up with a class that you weren't interested in but needed the credit. For myself, there were times that I said I was ready to drop out and be done; these were always met with eye rolls and a sarcastic remark. I was so ready to be done and move on with my life because things were hard and I was frustrated, yet also eager. But now, we are done and part of me wants to take back all those times I said I was ready. Honestly, I'm scared. I'm sure a lot of you are too, even if you won't say so.

In spite of this, I am hopeful. I have hope in my professors who have taught me what they could. I have hope in myself that I am ready for the challenges that life will keep throwing at me. I have hope in all of you, that you too are ready. And I have hope in all of our inspiring minds that the future we are creating will be good and full of creativity, innovation, sustainability, equality, love, and kindness.

I am glad that I chose UNC Charlotte to have spent my undergraduate years. Lastly, I want to say thank you to my professors for aiding in my future, to my friends who helped me laugh my way through the struggles, and to my parents who have been there for me every step of the way.

Thank you to everyone and congratulations to the UNC Charlotte Class of 2020!

History of the Alma Mater

Creation of UNC Charlotte’s Alma Mater is rooted deep in the University’s history. It is part of the “Academic Festival March” that was composed for UNC Charlotte by James Helme Sutcliffe, a Charlotte composer and music critic who lived in Germany at the time.

Dr. Loy Witherspoon, professor of religious studies, commissioned the march in 1965 after he learned Charlotte College would become a campus of the consolidated UNC system. The march was initially performed in 1967 for the installation of Dean W. Colvard as UNC Charlotte’s first chancellor. Afterward, it was performed as a recessional at every commencement held during Chancellor Colvard’s tenure.

UNC Charlotte founder Bonnie Cone, upon hearing the march, remarked, “I can hear an alma mater in it,” referring to a hymn-like final refrain. Dr. Robert Rieke, a professor of history, also heard an alma mater in the march. During a 1990 trip to Germany, Rieke visited march composer Sutcliffe, where he picked up a recording of the march. Rieke began writing words to fit the final refrain. On Christmas Eve 1991, Rieke sent Bonnie Cone the words and music as a Christmas present to her and the University, from which he had retired a year earlier.

Chancellor James H. Woodward approved Rieke’s composition as the University’s Alma Mater in April 1992. It was sung for the first time at the following May commencement and has been performed at every commencement since.

Greetings From The Graduating Class
College of Liberal Arts & Sciences
Katherine R. Baker
Candidate for Bachelor of Arts, English

I’ll start by acknowledging that graduation is a joyful and inspiring occasion in the midst of a time of fear and confusion. The class of 2020 has contended with multiple shocking and unprecedented events. At the end of last spring semester, tragedy struck our campus and we lost the lives of two members of the Niner family. None of us will ever forget that day. The beginning of this spring semester ushered in a global pandemic that dealt its hand indiscriminately and upset the daily lives of people around the world, causing many to suffer and extensively altering the course of our academic experience. UNC Charlotte met dramatic institutional changes with resilience, compassion, and our usual indomitable spirit. When classes made the transition online, our professors redesigned their courses midway through the semester to meet the needs of their students. Students entered this irregular class structure with an equally engaged and hardworking attitude. Though we were all impacted by these somber and unnerving moments to varying degrees, Niner Nation would not allow them to derail our intellectual pursuits and our commitment to education.

When I was young, my mother gave me one of her favorite novels, T. H. White’s The Once and Future King, which reimagines Arthurian legend. In one scene, Merlin explains to Arthur that, “The best thing for being sad is to learn something. [It’s] the only thing that never fails. You may grow old … You may miss your only love, [or] you may see the world about you devastated by evil … There is only one thing for it then--- to learn. Learn why the world wags and what wags it. That is the only thing which the mind can never exhaust… never fear or distrust, and never dream of regretting.” This homage to education carried me through some of the most difficult parts of my college experience. When relationships prove challenging or opportunities fall short, no one can take away my education and love of learning.

Merlin’s words embody exactly what I love so much about our College of Liberal Arts & Sciences. While it’s easy to see college as a means to a degree, a rung on the ladder to professional success, those of us pursuing work in science and the humanities understand the value of learning, the power of knowing. Our education here is not simply about memorizing facts and circling the correct multiple-choice answer; it is about adapting to change, asking the right questions, acknowledging what we don’t know. Here, we seek to answer that ever-present question asking “why the world wags and what wags it,” while simultaneously exploring what it means to be human and responding with compassion. As we graduate and go out into the world during times so volatile yet ripe with potential, let our capacity for education be our solace, and the knowledge we have gained here be our stability. Most importantly, as we each pursue our various talents and vocations, let us remember pastor and writer Frederick Buechner’s conviction that your purpose in life exists “where your greatest joy meets the world’s greatest need.” Let our passion for learning drive us all towards finding ways to create positive change in a world that, as we have learned so well, yearns for it.

Chancellor Philip L. Dubois

Philip L. Dubois became UNC Charlotte’s fourth chancellor in July 2005.

A native of Oakland, California, Dubois attended the University of California, Davis, where he graduated with highest honors in 1972 with an undergraduate degree in political science. He then earned master’s (1974) and doctoral (1978) degrees in the field from the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Dubois began his academic career in 1976 at the University of California, Davis. Over the next fifteen years, he rose through the faculty ranks to full professor and held various administrative posts, including associate vice chancellor for academic affairs. In 1991, Dubois was recruited to UNC Charlotte to be its chief academic officer, the provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. He left UNC Charlotte in 1997 to serve as president of the University of Wyoming, a post he held for eight years until returning to Charlotte.

Completing his fifteenth year as Chancellor, Dubois has focused his efforts on building the University’s visibility and support in the Charlotte region; long-range planning for an expected enrollment of 35,000 students; completion of key capital construction projects including UNC Charlotte Center City, the Energy Production and Infrastructure Center (EPIC), industry partnership hub PORTAL, and the University Recreation Center (UREC); implementation of an intercollegiate football program starting in the fall of 2013; and the expansion of light rail onto our campus in March 2018, connecting us to Center City as never before.

Among the recent community recognitions for Dubois and UNC Charlotte are: Charlotte Business Journal (CBJ) Most Admired CEO Lifetime Achievement Award (2020), City of Charlotte Mayor’s Award (2019), Charlotte Magazine Charlottean of the Year (2019), inclusion on the CBJ’s list of “Most Admired CEOs” (2019) and on their list of “Who to Watch in 2019” (2018), the North Carolina Power 100 List (2018 and 2019), the Eileen Tosney Award for Career Service in Higher Education Leadership (2018), the Higher Education Civic Engagement Award from the Washington Center (2016), the World Affairs Council of Charlotte’s World Citizen Award (2016), the CASE III Inclusion and Diversity Leadership Award (2015), the Leo M. Lambert Engaged Leader Award (2014), the Belk Innovation in Diversity Award (2013), the Charlotte Energy Leadership Award (2013), the Charlotte Cornerstone Award (2012, for positive economic impact), the Creative Thinker’s Award (2012, for UNC Charlotte—Center City), and the Charlotte Regional Partnership “Jerry” Award (2009, for public sector contributions to economic development).

The UNC Charlotte Board of Trustees honored Chancellor and Mrs. Dubois with the naming of the UNC Charlotte Center City building, which was the first facility constructed during the Dubois’ tenure.

Dubois and his wife, Lisa Lewis Dubois, have three adult children - Logan, Taylor, and Ali - and twin grandsons. Dubois retired as chancellor June 30, 2020.
